$55.1 Million Added to Macomb County's Economy And Over 600 Jobs Created During the First 6 Months of 2011

The Macomb County Department of Planning & Economic Development released its economic impact report for the first half of 2011 today.

Of the department's many client companies, 11 made investments in real and personal property totaling more than $55.1 million between January 1 and June 30, 2011. These investments helped to preserve some 1,167 Michigan jobs and create an additional 639 new positions.

"These are very impressive job and investment numbers that show our economy is turning the corner," said Macomb County Executive Mark A. Hackel. "I am pleased that 11 companies have chosen to invest in Macomb County to retain and create high quality jobs for our citizens. I commend our planning and economic development specialists for their hard work and responsiveness to our corporate community."

Included on the list is a $24.2 million dollar investment made by Faurecia, a global automotive solutions company headquartered in France. The investment in its Fraser, Michigan plant will install new machinery and equipment helping to retain 439 jobs while creating 428 more.

"The manufacturing industry, especially as related to today's advanced processes, is alive and well in Macomb County," says Stephen Cassin, director of the department.
