Free genealogy class at Macomb County Library

CLINTON TOWNSHIP, Mich. – The Macomb County Library is offering a free class on how to use a computer to research ancestors.

The class about online genealogy searches will be held in the library's computer lab 7-9 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 13.

People attending the classes will learn how to use online databases and how to access local, regional, state and national genealogical Web sites. Guests also will receive free genealogy charts and the booklet "Beginning Your Genealogy Research."

Participants are asked to bring the name of a male ancestor who was living in the United States in 1930.

The classes are free, but seating is limited and registration is required. Call Bill Luft at 586-412-5986, to register or for further information. The library is located at 16480 Hall Road, west of Garfield, in Clinton Township.

Visit www.macombcountylibrary.org for hours and information about other programs.

The Macomb County Library and its many programs and services are a public service of the Macomb County Board of Commissioners.
