Macomb County Library fall program for children

CLINTON TOWNSHIP, Mich. – Macomb County children are encouraged to discover what's in a name with the help of the Kids on the Block puppeteers.

Nam Nguyen, a puppet, wants to change his name because people at his school have a hard time pronouncing it and always laugh! Can his friend Valerie convince him to keep his name?

To find out, families can visit the Macomb County Library at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 21, for a puppet and craft program that celebrates some special books received through the "We the People Bookshelf on Becoming American" grant.

Macomb County Library and Macomb Literacy Partners sponsor this program. The American Library Association and the National Endowment for the Humanities sponsor the grant.

The program is free and open to the public. Space is limited and registration is required. For reservations or more information, call the Macomb County Library at 586-286-6660.
