Book discussion group meets at Macomb County Library

CLINTON TONWSHIP, Mich. – Macomb County residents looking to make the most out of their money are encouraged to attend a November discussion group about David Bach's bestselling book "Start Late, Finish Rich" at the Macomb County Library.

Bach's book takes the "Finish Rich" plan that he has shared with millions of people and tailors it specifically to those who procrastinated, forgot to save, or got sidetracked by life's unexpected challenges.

Whether readers are in their 30's, 40's, 50's, or even older, this book outlines a plan so they really can start late and still finish rich.

He claims that those starting late can still finish rich by turbo-charging their Latte Factor. The Latte Factor says that putting aside a few dollars a day rather than spending it on little purchases such as lattes, fancy coffees, bottled water, and other small things, can make the difference between becoming wealthy or living paycheck to paycheck.

The group will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 28, in the library's meeting room. Participants can expect a supportive environment to express their opinions, positive or negative.

There is no charge to participate in the book discussion group, but reservations are required. To reserve a spot, call 586-286-6660.

The December selection for the book discussion group is “Dispatches from the Edge,” by CNN reporter Anderson Cooper.

The Macomb County Library is located at 16480 Hall Road just west of Garfield in Clinton Township. The library is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday from September through May. Click on www.macombcountylibrary.org for dates and times of additional programs.

The Macomb County Library and its many programs and services are a public service of the Macomb County Board of Commissioners.
