Meeting Thursday to discuss services for unemployed

What: The Education & Training Committee of the Macomb County Board of Commissioners will hold a special meeting to discuss services for unemployed Macomb County residents whose unemployment benefits are running out.

When: 4:30 p.m. Thursday, July 23.

Where: The Board of Commissioners meeting room on the 9th Floor of the Macomb County Administration Building, 1 S. Main St., Mount Clemens.

Who should attend:

- County residents who have exhausted their unemployment benefits, or are close to having their benefits expire, are asked to attend to explain the challenges they face and identify the services they need
- Representatives of social services agencies are asked to attend so they can identify and explain services they provide

Who will be there:

- Paul Gielegem, chairman of the Macomb County Board of Commissioners
- John Bierbusse, executive director of Michigan Works!
- Frank Taylor, director of the Macomb County Community Services Agency
- Kay Andzejak, acting director of the Department of Human Resources
- Bill Sullivan, director of United Way 211 and County Commissioner
- David Flynn, chairman of the Education & Training Committee

Why: More than 10,000 Macomb County residents will exhaust their unemployment benefits by the end of 2009.
